Discussion Points – Child Support Population

Existing Workforce and Education Program Partnerships

1. How do Job Link and DCSS work together to provide supportive services to noncustodial parents to support job retention? Are there any obstacles to working together?
2. How can the two agencies work together to provide comprehensive services to noncustodial parents as they progress into livable wage jobs and careers?
3. How do eligibility criteria for workforce services impact the Child Support Program (CSP) populations' ability to access services?
4. What are the obstacles to providing workforce services to the CSP population?
5. What additional tools can be explored to motivate and support participation? Are there any legal or regulatory barriers to utilizing these tools?

Plans for Building Successful Partnerships or Scaling up Existing Successful Partnerships

1. Are there other prospective workforce partnerships that serve CSP participants?
2. How can partners, including DCSS, HSD, the WIB, SRJC, Adult Ed providers, CBOs, and other stakeholders, braid resources and coordinate service delivery?
3. How does the WIB engage CBOs with a history of serving and working with the targeted population, such as vocational training providers, in order to offer basic skills and occupational training, job and career search assistance, and supportive services?
4. What is the referral process utilized to track this population as they are referred from DCSS and/or Family Court?

Working with DCSS to identify incentives to increase the success of NCPs sustained participation in local workforce programs

1. What tools and incentives does DCSS provide to noncustodial parents to promote their participation in workforce development and education training programs?
2. What tools and incentives does DCSS use to facilitate a successful referral?
3. What tools and incentives does DCSS use to foster sustained program participation?
